6780.—Correspondence Courses—Revised Regulations for the Release Period (N. 26911/45.—29 Nov. 1945.)

Particulars of the greatly revised correspondence scheme arranged by the Army Council for the release period are given in this Order which is to be brought into force on 1st December, 1945.

The Order comprises :-

Part I.—General regulations, including extension of the scheme to all areas, new method of payment including the charging of deposits, modified procedure for issuing text books, mailing arrangements, etc. (paragraphs 5 to 20).

Part II.—Pre-training and refresher courses in professional, commercial and trade subjects (paragraphs 21 to 49).

Part III.—Courses designed to prepare candidates for examinations in professional subjects (Section A, paragraphs 50 to 116), commercial and trade subjects (Section B, paragraphs 117 to 128), and for matriculation and university external examinations (Section C, paragraphs 129 to 136).

Part IV.—Courses in general and cultural subjects (paragraphs 137 to 151).

Part V.—List of text books and their maximum assessments (paragraphs 152 and 153).

The courses materially assist in implementing the Educational and Vocational Training Scheme. They will meet a considerable range of the educational and professional needs of students which cannot be provided for adequately in class instruction by local naval and civilian resources.

- 2. Periodic Information about the Courses.—New courses may, from time to time, be introduced and applications for existing courses may have to be temporarily suspended mainly because of a shortage of text-books. These and other modifications will be notified monthly in Educational and Resettlement Information pamphlets.
- Explanatory Notes.—Notes on the courses and the class of student for which they are intended are given as the instructions to Parts II, III, and IV of this Order.
- 4. Facilities for Study.—Under the E.V.T. scheme a student will be able to work not only in his spare time but also, with the permission of the Commanding Officer, in periods during working hours allocated for private study.

It is important that students should be assisted by Education Officers and others qualified to do so and that suitable study places shall be provided. Help can be given in a variety of ways. Students who are taking the same or similar courses could meet and work together. They should be encouraged to work regularly and advised on the books to read to gain a wider view of the subjects studied.

PART I

GENERAL REGULATIONS

 Eligibility for Courses.—Courses are open to British Naval personnel, both men and women (including those serving on T.124 variants, Commissioned Cable Ship agreements, and V.A.Ds.).

N.B.—The special correspondence course schemes already in force for the British Pacific Fleet will continue. Particulars may be obtained from the Fleet Education Officer, Office of the Commander-in-Chief, British Pacific Fleet, c/o G.P.O., London.

- 6. Enquiries about Courses.
 - (a) Before enrolment.
 - (i) All enquiries are to be made to the Education Officer. Applicants are not to address such enquiries to the War Office (A.E.3).
 - (ii) Questions of a nature which cannot be answered locally should be referred, by the Education Officer, to the Fleet or Command Education Officer, or the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), London, S.W.1
 - (iii) If an applicant does not receive his enrolment papers within a reasonable period, Education Officers are not to submit a second application. They should address an enquiry to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3).

- (b) After enrolment.—Students may, when necessary, communicate with the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3). In such cases the student's enrolment number, course number and the title of the course concerned must be quoted.
- 7. Applications for Courses.—The number of courses available for each of the three Services is limited by a quota system. It is therefore important that an officer who countersigns an application form should satisfy himself that:—
 - (a) the course is within the applicant's capacity,
 - (b) there are no local facilities for class study in the subject selected,
 - (c) in the case of an application for a Part III Examination Course (paragraphs 50 to 136), the applicant has obtained from the Examining Body concerned permission to take the examination and details of any exemption to which he is entitled,
 - (d) there is reasonable expectation that the applicant will complete the course, and
 - (e) the course is not shown in the latest Educational and Resettlement Information pamphlet as not available (paragraph 2).

If the applicant does not possess the necessary minimum qualifications to take the course, some more elementary alternative should be suggested. To prevent the Naval Quota being wasted, all queries should be cleared up before applications are forwarded to the War Office (A.E.3).

Application forms, other than those from hospital patients (see paragraph 11), are not to be forwarded unless they are likely to arrive at the War Office (A.E.3) two months (or three months if the applicant is serving overseas) before the probable date of the applicant's release or discharge from the Service. In all cases the Age and Service Group of the applicant is to be stated after his name under heading 3 of the application form (see paragraph 8).

8. Naval Form of Application.—A Naval form of application has been introduced and this form must be used in all cases (except where applications are forwarded through the Fleet Education Officer, East Indies Fleet). Initial supplies have been distributed in accordance with A.F.O. 5742/45. Fleet and Command Education Officers will hold stocks of the forms, and requests for replacements, or for future initial supplies, are to be addressed to these Officers.

Application forms, when completed, are to be sent to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), London, S.W.1, who will report to the Commanding Officer if the application cannot be accepted. If accepted, the study notes, text books, etc., will be forwarded as outlined in paragraph 20.

- Application for more than one course.—Students will not be allowed to study more than one subject at a time, except:—
 - (a) those who, within twelve months of the date of their application, are sitting for an examination at which a number of subjects must be offered, and
 - (b) those wishing to study several subjects together for "Refresher" purposes.

In both cases, however, the applications must bear the endorsement of the Commanding Officer (or Education Officer) recommending that permission to study two or three subjects simultaneously should be granted.

10. Special Enrolments.—It is sometimes possible to arrange courses other than those listed in this Order with the Correspondence Colleges co-operating in the Scheme. Text books, however, cannot be provided for these courses.

An application for a "Special Enrolment" should not be made unless the Education Officer has previously ascertained from the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3) that the course required can be provided. Such enquiries can only be answered when full details of the applicant's educational background, professional or trade qualifications, and practical experience are stated.

11. Hospital Cases.—A Service patient in hospital who wishes to enrol for a course, or any further course, may do so by completing an application form in the usual way. The form must be countersigned by the Medical Officer-in-Charge (or Education Officer) or, in the case of E.M.S. hospitals, by the Medical Superintendent or Naval Medical Liaison Officer (or Education Officer), who should be satisfied that the conditions outlined in paragraphs 5 and 7 are fulfilled.

Special priority is given to applications from Service patients who are likely to remain in hospital for any considerable period, and applications from those who may be detained for periods exceeding one month will be exempt from the quota procedure.

Application forms must be marked "Long Term Patient" in red ink and forwarded as directed in paragraph 8.

Text books will be sent to the Medical Officer concerned and the conditions of issue and recovery will be as given in paragraphs 15 and 16.

12. Released and Discharged Students.—A student who is to be released or discharged from the Service may, at the discretion of the War Office (A.E.3), complete any course for which he has been enrolled. Application for permission to complete a course (and to purchase text books, if desired) is to be forwarded, as early as possible before the date of dispersal or survey, through the Commanding Officer, to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3). The student's enrolment number is to be quoted and the applicant should state how much of the course has been completed.

So that the facilities of the Scheme may not be impaired for serving personnel, text books are to be returned as directed in paragraph 16, unless special permission has been given to purchase them. Otherwise, any text book required to complete a course must be obtained from other sources.

Should permission to purchase be granted, the Commanding Officer is to arrange for S.C.B.D. Form 100 (Green) to be returned to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, Services Central Book Depot, Artillery House, Handel Street, London, W.C.1. S.C.B.D. Naval Form (C) is to be withdrawn, and the entries in the students S.43A cancelled (see paragraphs 15 and 16).

13. Subscriptions and Methods of Payment.—Instead of paying a fee for each course, the student will, in future, be charged a subscription of 10s. 0d. per annum, so long as he continues to make use of the facilities of the scheme, or fails to give notice of his withdawal from it. The subscription entitles a student, as he completes a course, to apply for any further course for which he is eligible during the subscription period covered.

In the case of a student enrolled under the old scheme who applies for a further course, the first subscription under the new procedure will become due twelve months after the date of enrolment for his previous course.

A student who has his enrolment suspended (see paragraph 18(a)) will have the period covered by his current subscription extended accordingly.

The student will be responsible that formal notice of completion, withdrawal or suspension is given to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), through his Commanding Officer, at least one month before the expiry of the first or any succeeding period of twelve months. If this is not done he will be liable for a further payment.

Enrolment or renewal subscriptions are only to be charged on receipt of an authorization by the War Office (A.E.3) which, in the case of—

- (i) new students, will be included in the parcel containing initial lessons and text books (see paragraph 20), and
- (ii) renewals, will be sent to the Commanding Officer.

The authorization is sent on a white form printed in yellow and marked "Paymaster or Agent" in the bottom left-hand corner. It is to be countersigned by the Commanding Officer and passed to the Supply Officer holding the student's account, who is to charge it on the ledger in the "other charges" column, annotated A.F.O. 6780/45, paragraph 13, and forward it as a ledger enclosure.

A second similar form marked "Agent or Paymaster's Receipt" is also sent; this is to be completed and returned to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3). The words "and credited in my account for" should be deleted.

14. Text Books.—In future, students will have to deposit a sum equal to the current assessment of the books, when these are received. This will be deducted from pay, by instalments if desired. The deposit will be refunded when the books are returned (see paragraph 15 and 16).

Under present conditions, books are in short supply and Education Officers are to ensure that they are returned when students reach any of the stages in their courses mentioned in paragraph 16(a).

Students who wish to apply for a course and have, or can obtain, copies of the books required (see Part V of this Order), may forward their applications even though the course is shown as not available in the latest Educational and Resettlement Information pamphlet. In such cases, "No book required" should be clearly stated after the course number and title under heading 6 of the application form.

Additional books of reference are often recommended to be read with the courses. Students should be given facilities to have access to these books when they are available in E.V.T. Command Reference Libraries.

N.B.—Applications for text books for War Office Correspondence Courses should not be sent to the Royal Naval War Libraries. The R.N.W.L. is, however, prepared to lend certain books which are recommended to be read in conjunction with a course, provided that the books are readily obtainable.

Special arrangements for the supply of certain text books are in force on the East Indies Station.

15. Supply of Text Books.—(a) Text books are supplied on loan by the Services Central Book Depot. They are taken on charge by the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, Services Central Book Depot, Artillery House, Handel Street, London, W.C.I, to whom all correspondence concerning text books should be addressed.

(b) The books will be sent to the student's Commanding Officer, who will issue them to the student and arrange that-

(i) the student signs and retains S.C.B.D. Form 100 (green) until the books are returned;

(ii) S.C.B.D. Naval Form (A) is returned after signature by the student:

(iii) the date of receipt of the books, their titles and values as shown on S.C.B.D. Form 100 (green), and the issue voucher number, are recorded in ink on the last blank page of the student's Naval Pay and Identity Book (S.43A), quoting this order, and

(iv) the value of the books is deducted from the student's pay as a deposit against their loan, by instalments if desired, and S.C.B.D. Naval Form

(C) is detached and given to the student as a receipt.

The amount of the deposit should be entered in the "other charges" column of the ledger, annotated A.F.O. 6780/45, paragraph 15 (b). S.C.B.D. Naval Form (B) is to be signed by the Commanding Officer as authority for the charge and will form an enclosure to the ledger. Supply Officers should arrange for payment of the deposit to be spread over a period if the student so wishes.

16. Return of Text Books.—(a) The student is responsible for the return of text books in good condition through the Commanding Officer—

(i) on completing or withdrawing from a course, or on interruption of the course;

(ii) at the end of the first or any succeeding period of twelve months, if he does not intend to pay a further annual subscription (see paragraph 13)

(iii) before release from the Service (see paragraph 12).

Books are to be returned through the Commanding Officer, accompanied by S.C.B.D. Form 100 (green), their despatch being recorded in the Correspondence Register and the entries in the student's S.43A cancelled. The Commanding Officer is to authorize refund of the deposit in the following form:—

(To be forwarded as a ledger enclosure: duplicate to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, Services Central Book Depot.)

(73499)

Refunds are to be entered in the "miscellaneous credits" column of the ledger, annotated A.F.O. 6780/45, paragraph 16 (a), and the student is to be informed of this procedure.

(b) If a student fails to return books, the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, Services Central Book Depot, will forward S.C.B.D. Naval Form (D) to the student's Commanding Officer, who is to decide whether—

(i) the loss was due to negligence, in which case the deposit is forfeited and reported on S.C.B.D. Naval Form (D).

(ii) the loss was accidental, in which case the deposit is to be refunded. A report on the circumstances of the loss, stating that the books should be written off charge, is to be forwarded on S.C.B.D. Naval Form (D).

In both cases S.C.B.D. Naval Form (C) is to be withdrawn and the entries in the student's S.43A cancelled.

(c) Before release from the Service, the student's S.43A is to be examined to ensure that no books are on charge. If there is evidence that the student should be in possession of books and cannot produce them, or show written authority that he has been allowed to purchase them (see paragraph 12), the circumstances are to be reported by letter, quoting the details mentioned in (iii) of sub-paragraph 15 (b) of this order, to the Officer-in-Charge Naval Section, Services Central Book Depot.

N.B.—In no circumstances must the transactions mentioned above be conducted through the cash account.

17. Changes of Address.—The student is responsible that any change of address, at any time after application has been made, is communicated to the Officer-in-Charge, Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), London, S.W.1, and in addition, after enrolment, to the professional body, correspondence college or individual tutor concerned.

18. Interruption of Courses.—(a) If a student has reason to believe that he will not be able to continue a course for a period of six months, he should inform the Officer-in-Charge, Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), through his Commanding Officer, whether he wishes the enrolment to be cancelled or remain in suspense. A suspended enrolment may be resumed at any time provided that the student is still serving in H.M. Forces (see paragraph 13).

(b) If it is not practicable for a student to submit papers for correction for a period of several weeks, he should inform the tutor or director of studies of the professional body or college concerned.

19. Withdrawal from and completion of courses.—On withdrawing from or completing any course, a student must inform his Commanding Officer, who is to notify the Officer-in-Charge, Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3), in duplicate. Text books are to be returned in accordance with paragraph 16 (a).

On completing the course, the student may apply, through his Commanding Officer, to the Officer-in-Charge, Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3) for a certificate stating that he has satisfactorily completed the course. The award of such a certificate will be made at the discretion of the War Office (A.E.3) after consultation with the professional body or college concerned.

N.B.—These certificates are merely an evidence of study. They do not exempt the holder from any examination.

20. Mailing arrangements.—Students are to be granted all facilities to assist in a rapid service of the courses.

All correspondence in connection with these courses, including student's worked papers, should be treated as official correspondence. It is to be forwarded by air mail, through the Commanding Officer, to and from H.M. Ships and Establishments abroad direct.

The initial lessons, text books and S.C.B.D. Naval Forms, authorisation for enrolment subscriptions, etc., will be forwarded in one parcel addressed to the Commanding Officer (for Education Officer). On the outside of the parcel there will be a clear indication that it contains a correspondence course for a named student.

Education Officers should ensure that :-

- (a) The parcel is opened in their presence and the contents checked by the student.
- (b) The procedure outlined in paragraph 15 (b) of this Order is followed.
- (c) the charge for the enrolment subscription is handed to the Supply Officer,
- (d) the parcel is re-addressed and forwarded if the student has left the ship. The despatch of subsequent lessons, corrected papers and tutor's letters to students is canalised through the office of the Officer-in-Charge, Naval Section, War Office (A.E.3). These will be forwarded by the quickest route.

PART II

PRE-TRAINING AND REFRESHER COURSES

- 21. Explanatory Notes.—There will be facilities for pre-training and refresher work in many subjects in the E.V.T. scheme. It will therefore be the responsibility of the Commanding Officer to satisfy himself, before forwarding an application for any correspondence course listed in this Part, that alternative means of instruction in the subject chosen are not available to the student.
 - 22. The courses in Part II are non-examination courses, intended for :-
 - (a) qualified students who, before resuming their careers, wish to refresh their knowledge of their own subjects, and
 - (b) students who, before beginning their training, wish to do some preliminary study.
- 23. Applicants for these courses should normally have reached School Certificate or Matriculation Standard in their general education.

ARCHITECTURE

- 24. Refresher Courses.—These courses are designed to meet the requirements of qualified architects who wish to bring their knowledge of the subject up to date. It is assumed that students will already possess the necessary text books and none will be provided for these courses.
 - A.R.(R) 7. The Theory of Steel and Reinforced Concrete.

A.R.(R) 8. Professional Practice.

A.R.(R) 9. Advanced Building Construction.

A.R.(R) 10. Architectural Hygiene and Sanitation.

A.R.(R) 11. Specifications.

A.R.(R) 12. Architectural Design.

N.B.—Details of courses in preparation for the Intermediate and Final Examinations of the R.I.B.A. are given in paragraphs 58 to 60.

CORN TRADE

- 25. The course has been prepared by the National Association of Corn and Agricultural Merchants and is designed for :—
 - (a) serving members of the corn trade (including outside representatives and clerical staff) who require a refresher course, and
 - (b) those contemplating entry into the corn trade who require an introductory course.

The subject of the course is :-

C.1. Corn and the corn merchant. (Function and activities of a corn and agricultural merchant; soil and plant growth; manures and manuring; homegrown grain and its uses; seed grain; agricultural and horticultural seeds; animal husbandry; animal feeding; feeding stuffs and their manufacture.)

ESTATE MANAGEMENT

- 26. Pre-training Courses.—The courses E.M.1 to E.M.6 are designed as preliminary reading for those who intend later to prepare for the Intermediate Examination of the Chartered Surveyors' Institute and who have not passed the First Examination. Some knowledge of the subjects is essential before studies on the Intermediate Examination syllabus can be undertaken.
 - E.M.1. Chain Surveying and Levelling.
 - E.M.2. Mensuration and Trigonometry.
 - E.M.3. Draughtsmanship.
 - E M.4. Building Construction.
 - E.M.5. Law of Property (Elements).
 - E.M.6. Law of Contract and Tort (Elements).
- 27. Refresher Courses.—The following course is suitable for qualified Surveyors, Land Agents, Auctioneers and Estate Agents who require information about the legislative changes of interest to the profession which have occurred since 1939:—
 - E.M.(R). New and Emergency Legislation.

There is a separate section of this course dealing with Agriculture and students who also require this section must add "Agriculture" under heading 6 of their application forms.

- 28. Refresher courses are also available as "Special Enrolments" (see paragraph 10), for the students mentioned in paragraph 27, in any of the Final Examinations of the Chartered Surveyors' Institute, the Auctioneers' and Estate Agents' Institute, and the Land Agents' Society. Applicants should select the subjects required and apply in the normal way. The words "Refresher Course" should be added in brackets after the titles of the subjects selected. It is assumed that applicants for these "Special Enrolment" courses will possess the text books needed and none will be provided.
- 29. Students will not be required to submit written work for correction either for the Course E.M.(R) or for the "Special Enrolment" courses.

HORTICULTURE

- 30. The courses have been prepared by the Royal Horticultural Society. A short introductory course in Agricultural Science, H.S. (E.M.), is available, and students are advised to take this course before proceeding to either H.S.2 or H.S.3. It is not required by students taking only H.S.1.
 - H.S.1. Vegetable Growing (suitable for the small gardener or allotment holder).
 - H.S.2. Hardy Fruit Growing
 H.S.3. Vegetable Growing in the open of the market gardener.
 - H.S.(E.M.). Agricultural Science.

INSURANCE

- 31. Pre-Training Courses.—The Courses I.C.1 to I.C.7 are general courses in the basic principles and practice of Insurance and have been prepared by the Chartered Insurance Institute. They are suitable for students who are not yet ready to study for the Associateship Examination of the Institute.
 - I.C.1. Fire.
 - I.C.2. Ordinary Life.
 - I.C.3. Industrial Life.
 - I.C.4. Accident.
 - I.C.5. Marine.
 - I.C.6. National.
 - I.C.7. General Principles and Practice of Insurance (all branches).
- 32. Refresher Courses.—The Courses I.C.(R)1 to I.C.(R)5 and I.C.(R)7 have been prepared by the Institute for insurance officials with considerable pre-war practical experience. They are up to date in regard to changes in law and practice which have occurred since 1939.
 - 1.C.(R)1. Fire Refresher Course.
 - I.C.(R)2. Ordinary Life Refresher Course.
 - I.C.(R)3. Industrial Life Refresher Course.
 - I.C.(R)4. Accident Refresher Course.
 - I.C.(R)5. Marine Refresher Course.
 - I.C.(R)7. General Insurance Refresher Course (all branches).

The above courses, while designed for use in conjunction with I.C.1 to I.C.5 and I.C.7, can, if desired, be taken independently.

N.B.—For examination courses in preparation for the Associateship and Fellowship Examination of the Chartered Insurance Institute reference should be made to paragraphs 92 to 97.

JOURNALISM

- 33. A consolidated refresher course has been prepared, with the approval of the National Union of Journalists, for those who have been employed as journalists in civil life for not less than six months.
- Every applicant for this course must enter on his application form the following additional particulars:—
 - (a) The paper on the staff of which he was employed.
 - (b) The town or district in which he worked.

This information is required in order that the applicant's eligibility may be decided in any doubtful case and that the student's work may be allotted, as far as possible, to a tutor in his particular field.

34. J.1. Refresher Course in Journalism :-

Reporting.

The fundamentals—The mechanics—Courts—Crime—Accidents—Meetings—Local Government—Interviewing—Notewriting—Style—Ethics and Etiquette.

35. Advice on writing for the Press.—Those who have not previously been employed as journalists are advised that the correspondence course method is not suitable for the study of this subject.

An Advisory Panel has, however, been set up by the Institute of Journalists, 2, Tudor Street, E.C.4, and members of this panel are prepared, free of charge, to advise members of H.M. Forces on writing for the Press and to criticise original manuscripts which are submitted (see A.F.O. 4980/42).

LAW (ENGLISH)

- 36. These courses, although not planned as a preparation for any specific legal examination, will be found to meet many of the examination requirements of students who wish to qualify for a call to the Bar, or for those who intend subsequently to work for a law degree. They are, however, also suitable for students who, in civil life, are solicitors' clerks and who wish to study or refresh their knowledge of certain branches of law.
 - L.1. Contract.
 - L.2. Negotiable Instruments.
 - L.3. Bankruptcy.
 - L.4. Tort.
 - L.5. English Legal System.
 - L.6. Sale of Goods.
 - L.7. Company Law.
 - L.S. Criminal Law.
 - L.9. Conveyancing.
 - L.10. Constitutional Law.
 - L.11. Real Property.
 - L.12. Equity.

Guided reading notes, for which application should be made under Course No. L.15, are also available on the subject of Roman Law.

N.B.—The requirements of articled clerks, who wish to prepare for the Intermediate and Final Examinations of the Law Society, are met by the Law Courses listed in paragraphs 100 to 102.

LAW (SCOTTISH)

37. There are no courses available in Scottish Law. Service students may, however, obtain advice and guidance in their reading on making direct application to Professor Candlish Henderson, K.C., 6, Doune Terrace, Edinburgh 3.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT FINANCE AND ACCOUNTS

38. Pre-training Course.—The Course M.T.1 which is approved by the Institute of Municipal Treasurers and Accountants, is intended for students who wish to do some preliminary work before taking a full course in preparation for the Examinations of the Institute. It will also be found useful by any student who is connected with, or interested in, local government administration.

39. Refresher Course.—The Course M.T.2 which is also approved by the Institute has been planned as a refresher course for those who have already passed the First Examination of the Institute, or for those who, having completed part of their preparation for the examination, wish to bring their studies up to date. The course deals with developments in Local Government Law, Finance and Accounts since

M.T.1. Local Government Finance.

M.T.2. Local Government Finance (Recent Developments).

N.B.—No courses are at present available to cover the Intermediate and Final Examinations of the Institute of Municipal Treasurers and Accountants.

PRINTING

40. These courses have been approved by the Joint Industrial Council for the Printing and Kindred Trades. They are purely refresher courses and are restricted to those who have been employed in the appropriate departments of the printing trade.

Every applicant must enter on his application form the following additional information :-

(i) Nature of occupation in the printing trade before joining H.M. Forces.

(ii) Where apprenticed and in which department.

(iii) Attendance at a technical school (if any), giving name of school, subjects taken and period of attendance.

P.R.1. Composing (intermediate).

P.R.2. Composing (advanced).

P.R.3. Letterpress Machine Work (intermediate).

P.R.4. Letterpress Machine Work (advanced).

P.R.5. Bookbinding (letterpress work). Bookbinding (account book work). P.R.6.

- Printers' and Binders' Warehouse Work (white paper warehouse). P.R.7.
- Printers' and Binders' Warehouse Work (manufacturing ware-P.R.8. house).

P.R.9. Lithography (transferring).

P.R.10. Lithography (plate making).

P.R.11. Lithography (machine printing).

- P.R.12. Printing Machine Assistants' Work (intermediate)
- P.R.13. Printing Machine Assistants' Work (advanced).
- 41. No courses in Process Engraving are available, but serving members of this branch of the trade who are anxious to bring themselves up to date can obtain, free of charge, on direct application to the Secretary, Society of Litho Artists, Engravers and Process Workers, 54, Doughty Street, London, W.C.1, a pamphlet giving full particulars of the developments in the subject during the war.

SALES MANAGEMENT

- 42. The following course, which is approved by the Incorporate Sales Managers' Association, deals with the elementary principles of Salesmanship :-
 - S.M.1. Salesmanship and Sales Organisation.
- N.B.—For courses in preparation for the Intermediate and Final Examinations of the Incorporated Sales Managers' Association, see paragraph 103.

SOCIAL STUDIES

43. The courses do not constitute a training or give a qualification for any form of social service work, since, among other reasons, training for such work consists partly of practical experience. Nor does study of these courses ensure admission to or reduction of the normal professional training. It will, however, provide a valuable background and will be an earnest of the student's real interest in the subject.

The courses are planned for the following categories of students :-

- (a) Those who wish to train for different forms of public and social service, both statutory and voluntary.
- (b) Those who have been engaged on some form of public social service and who wish to gain a more systematic knowledge of the subjects involved.
- (c) Those who wish to train for or return to other professions in which a knowledge of social and economic conditions, and some consideration of psychology and philosophy, is of value (e.g., medicine, teaching and the ministry).

(d) Those who would like to undertake public and social work in a voluntary capacity as part of their duty as citizens.

Students who require advice on which subjects to take and the order in which to study them, should add a note to this effect on the application form. They should give details of their previous knowledge or experience, not only of the subjects they wish to take, but also of other subjects in this group :-

TEACHERS' TRAINING

44. These pre-training courses have been prepared by the Association of Teachers in colleges and departments of education at the request of the Ministry of Education, in association with the Scottish Education Department.

Generally speaking, the courses are likely to be profitable only to those who have formed the habit of study, and have reached a level of general education which would enable them to profit by a course of reading on matters specifically concerned with the teaching profession. They will not in themselves give a qualification to teach, or take the place of full-time training, but will provide a useful introduction to the subject.

Applicants must state whether they wish to teach in England and Wales or in Scotland.

45. The following five courses may usefully be taken by all students :-

T.T.(1a). General Introductory Course. (The purpose and aims of education. Nursery, Junior, Senior and Secondary Schools. Youth Service. Adult Education. Administrative framework of the educational system. School health services.)

T.T.1(b). General Introductory Course (Scotland).—(Similar to T.T.1(a) but adapted to suit those who wish to become teachers in Scotland.)

T.T.3(a). Elementary Psychology.—(Study of behaviour, motives and abilities. Intelligence. Imagination and Memory. Personality. Temperament. Character.)

T.T.4. Social Studies .- (History and significance of the family and social group. Environment. Appreciation of the impact of the social services on the lives of pupils and parents.)

T.T.5. General Principles of Teaching .- (Introduction to the technique of teaching. Selection of material. Preparation and presentation of lessons. Temptations to avoid. Aids to Learning.)

T.T.6. Health Education.—(Meaning of health education. Psychical Education. Nutr tion. Personal hygiene. Community Health. Communicable diseases. Special problems, such as sex.)

46. The following courses are more specialized and choice should be made according to the interests of individual applicants :-

T.T.2. English Usage.—(The Course is designed to assist students to acquire a clear and conscious command of the English language. It is intended for those who have read fairly widely and have developed some power of self-expression in speech and writing.)

T.T.3(b). Advanced Psychology.—(A continuation course for those who have taken Course T.T 3(a).)

T.T.7. Modern English Writers .- (For students already interested in literature, who wish to study the works of modern writers, such as D. H. Lawrence, E. M. Forster, Virginia Woolf, Bernard Shaw, Sean O'Casey, T. S. Eliot, W. H. Auden, Lytton Strachey, David Cecil, Aldous Huxley. The course discusses these writers under the aspects of the novel, drama, poetry, "reportage," biography and tendencies of modern thought.)

T.T.8. Nursery and Infant School Teaching.—The course is of interest to all women who wish to become teachers, put particularly to those who wish to specialize in the teaching of nursery school children and infants. (Educational aims for the early years of childhood. Conditions essential for growth. Significance of play activity for all-round development. Teaching and training of children at the different stages of development up to 71 years of age. Life in the infant school.)

THEOLOGY

47. These courses are primarily intended as pre-training courses for those who intend to enter the ministry of a particular church, but they are also suitable for the general student.

The religious denomination of the applicant should in every case be stated on the application form.

PART III

EXAMINATION COURSES

Explanatory Notes

- 50. The courses in this Part are designed primarily for candidates who are actually preparing for certain Professional, Commercial, Trade and Academic examinations, or for the theoretical part of those examinations, where the syllabus also includes practical work. In some Subject Groups the courses do not cover all the subjects of a particular examination syllabus or do not completely cover some of the subjects. In such cases the Group heading, or certain of the courses therein, are marked thus *.
- 51. Except where otherwise stated under particular headings, entry for any of these courses is restricted to those who are eligible for and intend to sit for the particular examination to which the course relates.

No application or enquiry on behalf of an examination student should be submitted to the War Office (A.E.3) until the student has confirmed, by direct application to the Examining Body, that he is eligible to take the examination concerned.

Applicants are also advised to ascertain-

(a) What subjects are included in the Examination syllabus.

(b) How many and which of these subjects must be offered at any one

(c) Whether they can claim exemption from any part of the examination, on the ground of their existing qualifications.

(d) The date or dates on which the examination will be held (see A.F.O. 1652/45, Appendix VIII, (i)).

- 52. It must be clearly understood that, except where otherwise stated, in the notes under the Group headings, enrolment for any of the courses in this Part does not entitle a student to sit for any examination, if he is not otherwise eligible, or to claim exemption from any examination.
- 53. Applicants for these courses should normally have reached School Certificate or Matriculation standard in their general education.

PART III-SECTION A

Courses in Preparation for Certain Professional Examinations

Accountancy

54. The courses form a suitable preparation for the Intermediate and Final Examinations of most of the Incorporated Societies of Accountants.

Courses with the serial letter A have been planned primarily to cover the examinations of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, the Society of Incorporated Accountants and Auditors and the Association of Certified and Corporate Accountants. Courses with the serial letters C.W. are particularly suitable for students preparing to sit for the examinations of the Institute of Cost and Wo.ks Accountants.

E.2*

The Courses E.2, I.C.32 and M.24A are taken from other subject groups, but are suitable for Accountancy students.

Where the subjects have varying titles in different examinations, the alternatives are given in brackets in column 1.

In some cases the subject in the examination syllabus of a particular Accountancy Body (e.g., Book-keeping and Accounts), embraces topics that are dealt with in more than one of the War Office courses. It will be necessary in these cases for the student to take more than one course in order to cover the subject completely.

N.B.—Before applying for any of the courses, an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary of the Accountancy body concerned whether he is eligible to sit for the examination in question.

55. The addresses of the Accountancy Bodies are :-

Institute of Chartered Accountants, Moorgate Place, London, E.C.2.

Society of Incorporated Accountants and Auditors,

Incorporated Accountants Hall, Victoria Embankment, London,

Association of Certified and Corporate Accountants,

The Vineyard, Saffron Walden, Essex.

Institute of Cost and Works Accountants,

Appropriate War Office Courses covering the igot for particular examination

N.B.—(i) The subjects required by other Incorporated Accountancy bodies vary, but the courses suggested in this column will be found suitable in preparation for the subjects named. Certain special requirements of the Examinations of the Chartered Accountants of Scotland and the Institute of Chartered Accounts in Ireland, are not covered completely by any of these courses.

(ii) Course A.1.(ii) should, if possible, be studied in conjunction with articles in current publications dealing with annual changes in Finance Acts.

(iii) Course E.2 Fundamentals of Industrial Administration does not completely cover the subject Factory Organisation, Equipment and Production Methods in the I.C.W.A. Intermediate and Final Examinations.

* See paragraph 50.

ARCHITECTURE

- 58. The courses in this group cover the syllabuses of the Intermediate, Final and Special Final Examinations of the Royal Institute of British Architects, 66 Portland Place, London, W.1.
- (a) To be eligible to sit for the Intermediate Examination, candidates must either be registered probationers of the R.I.B.A. or must produce evidence of holding one of the certificates of general education accepted for the Probationship.
- (b) Candidates for the Final Examination of the Institute must have passed the Intermediate Examination, or have secured exemption from it by passing an approved course at a recognised School of Architecture.
- (c) The Special Final Examination is open only to persons in practice and assistants of not less than thirty years of age.

N.B.—Details of pre-training and refresher courses are given in paragraph 24.

INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION COURSES

- 59. A.R.1. General History of Architecture.
 - A.R.2. Special Period of History of Architecture :-

(a) Greek and Roman, or (b) Gothic. Students must state whether they require (a) or (b).

- A.R.3. Simple Stresses.
- A.R.4. Building Construction.
- A.R.5. Architectural Design I.
- A.R.6. Testimonies of Study. Students may in special circumstances submit the testimonies after the examination.

FINAL EXAMINATION COURSES

- 60. A.R.7. Theory of Steel and Reinforced Concrete.
 - A.R.8. Professional Practice.
 - A.R.9. Advanced Building Construction.
 - A.R.10. Architectural Hygiene and Sanitation.
 - A.R.11. Specifications.
 - A.R.12. Architectural Design II.
 - A.R.13. Testimonies of Study. Students may in special circumstances submit the testimonies after the examination.
 - A.R.14. The Thesis.

AUCTIONEERING AND ESTATE AGENCY

- 61. The courses cover the syllabuses of Parts I and II of the Intermediate Examination of the Auctioneers and Estate Agents Institute of the United Kingdom, 29, Lincolns Inn Fields, London, W.C.2.
- N.B.—Before applying for any course an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary of the Institute that he is eligible to take the examination.

- A.U.9. Valuations (Elementary).

64. Final Examination Courses.—Courses can be arranged as "Special Enrolments" (see paragraph 10) for any of the subjects for the Final Examination of the Institute.

BANKING (ENGLISH)

65. The courses in this group are based on the syllabus of the Associate Examination of the Institute of Bankers, Parts I and II. For candidates who have not passed any of the subjects of this examination, a new examination has been introduced which will come into force in 1946. Candidates who have passed one or more subjects of the old examination will have an option to work either to the new or to the old syllabus. Courses B.2 to B.5 are suitable for students working to the new Part I syllabus, as the subjects are the same. Course B.1 will also be of considerable use for the new subject, "Law and Practice relating to Negotiable Instruments," pending the preparation of a new course in this subject. Courses B.6 to B.10 do not cover any part of the new Part II syllabus.

Most students, however, who reach Part II subjects while in the Service will probably be working to the old syllabus.

Syllabuses and further information should be obtained from the Institute of Bankers, 11, Birchin Lane, London, E.C.3.

- N.B.—Before applying for any course an Examination Candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary of the Institute whether he is eligible to take the Examination.
- 66. The Part II Courses may also be recommended to students who have already passed both Parts of the Associateship Examination but who wish to do some revision work.
 - 67. Part I Examination Courses.
 - B.1. Practice and Law of Banking I.
 - B.2. Economies I.
 - B.3. Book-keeping.
 - B.4. English Composition I.
 - B.5. Commercial Geography.
 - 68. Part II Examination Courses.
 - B.6. Practice and Law of Banking II.
 - B.7. Economies II.
 - B.8. English Composition II.
 - B.9. Foreign Exchange.
 - B.10. Accountancy.

BANKING (SCOTTISH)

- 69. The courses are adapted to the requirements of the Associateship and Membership Examinations of the Institute of Bankers in Scotland, 62 George Street, Edinburgh.
- N.B.—Before applying for any course an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary of the Institute that he is eligible to take the examination.
 - 70. Associateship Examination Courses.
 - S.B.1. Book-keeping and Bank Books.
 - S.B.2. Banking Practice.

- S.B.9. Mercantile Law.
- S.B.10. Law of Bills, Cheques and Deposit Receipts.
- S.B.11. Practical Banking (including Correspondence, Branch Supervision and Advances).
- N.B.—The following Membership Examination subjects are adequately covered by Banking (English) Part II subjects (see paragraph 68).
 - B.7. Economics.
 - B.9. Theory and Practice of Foreign Exchange.

ENGINEERING

- 72. The courses have been primarily designed to meet the requirements of students preparing for the Associate Membership Examinations of the Institutions of Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, as shown under groups (a), (b) and (c) below. Some of the courses will, however, be found useful by students preparing for examinations of other Engineering Institutions as indicated under groups (d) and (f)
- 73. Non-examination students who possess the requisite preliminary qualifications may take these courses for the following purposes :-
 - (I) Courses E.R.1, 2, 4 and 5 and E.3 and 4 for :-
 - (i) Revision of National Certificate or Intermediate Degree work, or
 - (ii) Preliminary reading for taking Intermediate B.Sc. (Engineering) after release from the Service, and
 - (II) Courses E.6 to 16 and E.R.16 for :-
 - (i) Revision of Higher National Certificate or B.Sc. (Engineering) work,
 - (ii) Preliminary reading for taking the Higher National Certificate or the B.Sc. (Engineering) Final Degree on release from the Service.
- 74. Preliminary Qualifications Required .—(I) No student may apply for courses E.R.1, 2, 4 and 5 or E.3 and 4 unless he possess one of the following preliminary qualifications :-
 - (i) Matriculation.
 - (ii) School Certificate with Credit in Mathematics or Science.
 - (iii Has completed one or two years of an Ordinary National Certificate, or equivalent, course.
 - (II) No student may apply for courses E.6 to 16 and E.R.16 unless he has:
 - (i) taken all the relevant Section A courses, or
 - (ii) passed an Intermediate B.Sc. (Engineering) or equivalent University Examination, or
 - (iii) obtained an Ordinary National Certificate, or equivalent qualification.

It must be clearly understood that these courses cannot in themselves provide a preparation for the Ordinary or Higher National Certificate examinations, because they are only open to students who have completed an approved period of attendance at an approved technical college, and must be taken at the college concerned.

PART III.—SECTION B

COURSES IN PREPARATION FOR CERTAIN COMMERCIAL AND TRADE EXAMINATIONS

117. The courses in this section cover the theoretical parts of certain commercial and trade examinations. No definite ruling can be given as to the qualifications required of applicants, but some previous practical experience is desirable in all cases.

Although the courses are intended primarily for examination candidates, they are also suitable for, and may be taken by, those who wish to acquire a good theoretical background to implement their previous practical experience.

BAKERY

118. The courses are designed as a preparation for the City and Guilds Examinations in Breadmaking and Flour Confectionery, but they are only suitable for students who have already had some practical experience in Bakery. Applicants for the Final standard courses should have already passed the City and Guilds Intermediate Examination or should have reached an equivalent standard.

N.B.—Before applying for any course an Examination Candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary, Department of Technology, City and Guilds of London Institute, 31, Brechin Place, South Kensington, S.W.7, whether he is eligible to take the examination.

B.A.I. Breadmaking (Intermediate).

B.A.3. Breadmaking (Advanced).

B.A.2. Flour Confectionery (Intermediate).

B.A.4. Flour Confectionery (Final).

BUILDING

119. The courses cover the syllabuses of the City and Guilds Intermediate and Final Examinations in certain Building subjects. The Intermediate Standard courses are only suitable for students who have been employed in the trade for at least twelve months, or who have previously taken a course in the subject at a technical college. For the Final Standard courses, students should have passed the Intermediate Standard in the subject or have an equivalent qualification.

120. Courses covering the City and Guilds Examinations in other building subjects can be arranged as "Special Enrolments" (see paragraph 10.).

N.B.—Before applying for any of these courses, or for a "Special Enrolment" for any other Building course, an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary, Department of Technology, City and Guilds of London Institute, 31, Brechin Place, South Kensington, S.W.7, whether he is eligible to take the examination.

121. Non-examination students who have had practical experience in the trade and now wish to attain a good theoretical knowledge, may also take the courses.

B.G.1. Brickwork (Intermediate).

B.G.2. Brickwork (Final).

B.G.3. Carpentry and Joinery (Intermediate).

B.G.4. Carpentry and Joinery (Final).

B.G.5. Plumbing (Intermediate).

B.G.6. Plumbing (Final).

B.G.7. Painting and Decorating (Intermediate and Final).

N.B.—(i) The drawing instruments required for these courses will not be provided by the War Office (A.E.3) or the College concerned.

(ii) Students who require a non-examination course in Building Construction will find E.M. 4 suitable (see paragraph 26).

BUILDING SOCIETIES*

122. The courses are designed to prepare candidates for certain subjects in the syllabuses of the Intermediate Examination of the Building Societies' Institute. Students who have passed this examination may find the courses suitable for revision purposes.

Students who have not studied these subjects before are recommended to take

B.S.2 and B.S.3 before taking B.S.1.

N.B.—Before applying for a course an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary, Building Societies Institute, 14 Park Street, London, W.1, that he is eligible to take the examination.

B.S.1. Building Society Law and Practice.

B.S.2. Book-keeping.

B.S.3. Economics.

ELECTRICAL SUBJECTS (CITY AND GUILDS)

123. The courses are suitable for students who are preparing for the City and Guilds of London Institute Examinations in electrical subjects.

N.B.—Before applying for a course, an examination candidate must ascertain direct from the Secretary, Department of Technology, City and Guilds of London Institute, 31, Brechin Place, South Kensington, London, S.W.7, whether he is eligible to take the examination.

* See paragraph 50.

124. For the Grade I courses, no previous knowledge of the subject is assumed. Applicants for Grade II courses should have passed the appropriate Grade I examination or have attained an equivalent standard.

Non-examination students, who have practical experience of the subject and wish to obtain a good theoretical knowledge, may also take the courses.

- C.G.1. Radio Communication, Grade I.
- C.G.2. Radio Communication, Grade II.
- C.G.3. Transmission and Lines, Grade I.
- C.G.4. Technical Electricity, Grade I.

For further particulars of examinations in Radio Communication, Grades I, II, see A.F.O. 1652/45, Appendix VIII (iv).

N.B.—(i) It is not possible for the War Office (A.E.3) to arrange courses in any other City and Guilds electrical subjects.

(ii) For details of the correspondence courses in City and Guilds Electrical Engineering Practice arranged by H.M.S. "Vernon", Portsmouth, see A.F.O. 5411/44.

GROCERY*

125. The courses are primarily intended for students who are preparing for the Intermediate Examination and for Part I of the Final Examination of the Institute of Certificated Grocers, 50, Doughty Street, London, W.C.I. Applicants should normally have had practical experience in the trade, but this is not essential in the case of applicants for the Intermediate standard courses. Students who require a refresher course may also be recommended to take the Intermediate standard course.

126. Intermediate Standard Course.—G.1. Grocery, Intermediate.

This course covers the following subjects:-

Part I. Food values.

Part II. (i) Grocery and provision commodities.

- (ii) Legal regulations.
- (iii) Retail salesmanship.

It also contains sections on Shop Practice, and Dried and Evaporated Fruits, which are not required for the Intermediate Examinations but which are useful for students who need a refresher course.

- N.B.—Intermediate Examination subjects not covered by courses are :-
 - (i) Principles of display.
 - (ii) Commercial art.
 - (iii) Book-keeping (but Course S.3, Accountancy, is suitable—see paragraph 105).
- 127. Final Examination Course.—G2. Grocery, Advanced.

This course covers the following subjects of the Final Examination, Part I:-

- (i) Grocery and provision commodities.
- (ii) Law affecting the Grocery Trade.
- (iii) Food values.

N.B.—The Final Examination, Part II, consists of practical tests which cannot be covered by correspondence courses.

128. Exemption.—Service students who have satisfactorily completed either G.1 or G.2 will, on application to the Institute, be granted exemption from the Intermediate Examination.

* See paragraph 50.

PART III—SECTION C

MATRICULATION AND UNIVERSITY EXTERNAL EXAMINATIONS

MATRICULATION COURSES (UNIVERSITY OF LONDON)

- 129. The courses cover the syllabuses of Parts I and II of the London Matriculation Examination or Special Entrance Examination. Details of the Matriculation Examination and of concessions to Service personnel are given in A.F.O. 1652/45, Appendix VIII (iii).
 - X.1. Matriculation Part I subjects—English and Elementary Mathematics.
 - X.2. Matriculation Part II subjects—Candidates must select three subjects from the list of options given in the Regulations relating to Matriculation which are obtainable from the Secretary to the Matriculation and School Examinations Council, University of London, Richmond College, Richmond, Surrey.

A student who elects to study a single subject of Matriculation standard should refer to Part IV of this Order.

N.B.—All communications regarding eligibility for this examination must be addressed direct to the Secretary of the Matriculation and School Examinations Council from whom the General Regulations may be obtained free of charge.

INTERMEDIATE DEGREE IN ARTS*

130. The courses cover certain subjects in the syllabus of the Intermediate Arts Degree of the University of London. A candidate must offer four subjects, but these must include two languages, one of which must normally be Latin or Greek.
